Financial Risk Management

Carrying values of financial instruments as at February 28, 2026 and May 31, 2025 are as follows:

	As at February 28, 2026	As at May 31, 2025
FVTPL, measured at fair value:
Investments	2,000,000	-
Financial assets, measured at amortized costs

Amounts receivable	4,472	37,119
Financial liabilities, measured at amortized costs:
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	83,534	94,744

The Company has determined the estimated fair value of its financial instruments, if any, based on appropriate valuation methodologies; however, considerable judgment is required to develop these estimates. The fair values of the Company's financial instruments, if any, are not materially different from their carrying values.

Financial instruments that are measured subsequent to initial recognition at fair value are grouped in levels 1 to 3 of the fair value hierarchy based on the degree to which inputs used in measuring fair value is observable:

Level 1 – quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. There are no financial instruments measured at fair value which are classified as Level 1.

Level 2 – inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices). There are no financial instruments measured at fair value which are classified as level 2.

Level 3 – inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). The Company's level 3 financial instruments are restricted to its investments. The investments of a privately held company are not quoted on an exchange. Management believes that the fair value of the investments have not changed since the initial purchase cost.

Risk exposure and management

The Company's financial instruments are exposed to certain financial risks, which include the following:

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Company. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date to recognized financial assets is the carrying amount of cash and cash equivalents, investments and amounts receivable as disclosed in the statements of financial position.

The Company manages credit risk, in respect of cash and cash equivalents, by maintaining bank accounts at highly rated financial institutions; in respect of investments, in the event of non-payment, investments can be converted into common shares of the investee.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulties in meeting obligations when they become due. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate cash reserves, by continuously monitoring actual and forecast cash flows and matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

As at February 28, 2026 and May 31, 2025, the Company had working capital of $4,188,900 and $6,193,949, respectively.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: foreign currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk. These are discussed further below.

I. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's interest-bearing financial instruments are limited to its cash and cash equivalents and notes receivable which are based on fixed interest rates. The Company does not have interest bearing debt and therefore is not exposed to significant interest rate risk.

II. Foreign currency risk

Currency risk relates to the risk that the fair values or future cash flows of the Company's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company holds positions in various crypto currencies which have a market value stated in US dollars. Exchange rate fluctuations affect the costs that the Company incurs in its operations. The Company's functional currency is the US dollar and major purchases are transacted in US dollars. The Company is not subject to material foreign currency risk.

III. Price risk

Price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market prices, other than those arising from interest rate risk or foreign currency risk. The Company is not subject to material price risk.

Material Accounting Policies

The Company's material accounting policies and changes to them can be found in Note 3 of its audited financial statements for the year ended May 31, 2025.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgments and estimates and form assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in future periods affected.

Critical accounting judgments

(i) Functional currency
(ii) the assessment of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and whether there are events or conditions that may give rise to significant uncertainty.

Risks

General Risks

Liquid Meta has a limited operating history

Liquid Meta has a limited history of operations and is in the early stage of development. As such, Liquid Meta will be subject to many risks common to early-stage enterprises, including undercapitalization, cash shortages, limitations with respect to personnel, financial and other resources, and lack of revenue. There is no assurance that Liquid Meta will achieve its operating goals. There is no assurance that Liquid Meta will be successful in achieving a return on shareholders' investment and the likelihood of success must be considered in light of its early stage of operations. There can be no assurance that Liquid Meta will be able to earn material revenue or that any of its activities will generate positive cash flow.

Liquid Meta's compliance and risk management programs may not be effective

The Company's ability to comply with applicable laws and rules is largely dependent on the establishment and maintenance of compliance, review and reporting systems, as well as the ability to attract and retain qualified compliance and other risk management personnel, as needed. The Company cannot provide any assurance that its compliance policies and procedures will be effective or that it will be successful in monitoring or evaluating its risks. If there is any alleged non-compliance with applicable laws or regulations, The Company could be subject to investigations and judicial or administrative proceedings that may result in substantial penalties or civil lawsuits for damages, restitution or other remedies, which could be significant. Any of these outcomes, individually or together, may materially and adversely affect the Company's reputation, financial condition and valuation, and the value of its common shares.

Unexpected market disruptions may cause major losses for Liquid Meta

The Company may incur major losses in the event of disrupted markets and other extraordinary events in which market behavior diverges significantly from historically recognized patterns. The risk of loss in such events may be compounded by the fact that, in disrupted markets, many positions may become illiquid, making it difficult or impossible to close out positions against which markets are moving. Market disruptions caused by unexpected political, military and terrorist events, or other factors, may from time to time cause dramatic losses for Liquid Meta.
